Villages, heart in the «valley»

Aime

Aime's town centre offers a pleasant setting for a stroll, halfway between halfway between the Prieuré Saint Martin church and the Pierre Borrienne space. Numerous squares, all with their own charm and history, invite you to take a rest. In the Place de la Cachouriaz, in the cool of the water trough more than a century old (built in 1900), the old cheese dairy can still be seen.

A little further is the place Brunet in the heart of the old village, sits a fountain and benches that make it a symbolic place. From the Place de l'Ormente to the Place Joux, via the Rue de la Procession and the Rue du Jeu de Boules, there are a multitude of streets to discover. They all have their own history.

Villette

The village of Villette is situated at 740 meters high. It is made up of two hamlets Charves at 1300m high and Plan Villard, the mountain hamlet. A mainly residential commune, overlooked by the Château de Sainte-Anne, Villette grew thanks to its marble quarry, called the "Tarentaise rift"

Centron

At the end of the gorges of the Isère river, you can turn into the village of Centron. Discover St Claude's Chapel that was restored in the 17th century, as well as a 20th century church, a testimony to post-war architecture. Near the Isère, a pleasant leisure park with a restaurant offers many activities (rafting, etc.). A nature trail, a geological path and a World War II memorial complete the possibilities for discovering the area.

Bellentre

Bellentre is spread over both banks of the Isère river. Apart from the main village, the commune consists of thirteen hamlets : seven on the Versant du Soleil (the sunny side of the valley) : Le Gothard, Le Crey, Le Rocheray, La Grange, Le Villard, Bonconseil and Le Plan des Forches, and six on the left bank of the Isère, also known as Le Revers Le Mazuet, Les Granges, Le Grand Bochet, Montorlin, Montchavin and Les Coches.

Macot

The village of Macot is in a lush green setting on the river's edge and is sure to surprise you. Like any village, it is centred around the church. A stroll around the village will take you through little squares, passing traditional houses and shops.

Hill-top villages

Granier

Situated at an altitude of 1250 metres, and leaning against the Beaufortain massif, the village stretches out on the slopes of the Versant du Soleil and dominates the Tarentaise valley. The view is breathtaking: from the glaciers and peaks of the Vanoise to the large ski areas. Syndicat d'initiative de Granier
Tel. 04 79 55 46 44 si.granier@free.fr

Tessens

Set on the hillside at an altitude of 950m high on the sunny side of the valley. Its two hamlets are Villaroland and le Breuil at 800m high. Most of the village's revenue comes from farming. The houses are in typical Savoyard style, centred around the church and linked together by narrow, paved streets.

Montgirod

The village of Montgirod is located on a flat area and has been inhabited for a very long time. On the church square, a curious cupstone bears witness to pre-Christian times. It takes the form of an imposing block of hard rock, one side of which is hollowed out with numerous small cupules. Above the village, a «water trail» offers a pleasant walk in the forest, while on the mountain pasture, a large herd of cows and a team of shepherds produce the excellent Beaufort cheese.

Valezan

A small authentic village that still offers the traditional warm welcome. Aside from the panoramic view stretching from the Col du Petit Saint-Bernard to the Col de la Madeleine, its architecture is worth stopping for: traditional houses adapted to the slope and the wind, creating multifunctional work areas.

La Côte d'Aime

A mountain of traditions welcomes you to the 10 hamlets of La Côte d'Aime, spread out on the southern flank, between 800 and 2995m. Let yourself be guided by the magic of discovery: ancient villages, vineyards and orchards, forests, mountain pastures, mountain lakes, climbing routes...

The sites are waiting for you!

Tourist office of La Côte d'Aime & Valezan

Tel. 04 79 55 69 25 - si.lacotedaime@free.fr

Longefoy

Longefoy, with its red-tiled roofs, is a small village set at 1250m high, at the entrance to the winter and summer resort of Plagne Montalbert. The village overlooks the valley below and is itself overlooked by the Chapel of La Superga, a reproduction of the famous monument in Turin, set in lush green surroundings.
